

Quick guide to membership options

People's motivations, participation preferences and time commitments vary. By offering different membership options your club can accommodate these needs. Below are some suggestions for different membership options. These are examples only – your club could choose what would work for the club and its members.

Full Membership

Giving access to everything the club has to offer.

First Year Membership

Reduced cost to attract new members.

Associate Membership

For people who would like to roll up and play socially, but not participate in league games or competitions.

Junior Membership

To reduce outlay for younger members and make the prospect of bowling more attractive and affordable for them and their families.

Couples Membership

To attract couples to come and enjoy an interest together.

Social Membership

For people wanting to spectate, volunteer, use the club facilities or participate in social events but not bowl.

Pay and Play

For people who do not want to play in leagues or competitions, and just want to play every so often at a time convenient to them. These rink fees are usually at a higher rate than those paying for other membership options.
